

POETRY.

BOB & BOB'S WIFE

Once knew a ploughman,
Bob Fletcher his name,
Who was old, and was ugly,
And so was his dame;
Yet they lived quite contented,
And free from all strife,
Bob Fletcher the ploughman,
And Judy his wife.

As the morn streak'd the east
And the night fled away,
They would rise up for labor:
Refreshed for the day;
The song of the lark, as
It rose on the gale,
Found Bob at the plough, and
His wife at the pail.

A neat little cottage
In front of a grove,
Where in youth they first gave
Their young hearts up to love,
Was the place of age, and,
To them doubly dear,
As it call'd up the past
With a smile or a tear.

Each tree had its thought, and
A vow could impart,
That mingled in youth
The warm wish of the heart;
The thorn was still there, and
The blossoms it bore,
And the song from the top, seem'd
The same as before.

When the curtain of night
Over nature was spread,
And Bob had return'd from
His plough to his shed,
Like a dove on his nest,
He reposed from all care,
If his wife and his youngest
Contented were there.

Village Record.

Outrage.—The Boston Age says,—"We learn from Providence, that two or three disturbances occurred in that city during the past week. On Tuesday night, five bullets were fired into the Mansion House of Gen. Bridgman, the highly popular Mayor of the city. This deed was supposed to have been perpetrated by a young man of respectable connections, who had lately been put under guardianship, at the instigation (as he thought) of Gen. B. and who took this summary method of revenging himself for his imaginary wrongs. On the following morning, Wednesday, Mr. S. B. Jr. entered the office of his father, a highly respectable merchant of P., and presenting a loaded pistol, demanded of him one thousand dollars. His father, instead of complying with this unreasonable request, had him arrested immediately and committed to prison, where he will have an opportunity of cooling his blood, as well as of enjoying one of the most beautiful prospects to be found in the vicinity of Narragansett Bay."

One man in a Thousand.—The Bangor Advertiser states that on Saturday the stock of flour in that city was not large enough to meet the demand, and it rose at once from nine to thirteen dollars. One of our young merchants, who had quite a number of barrels, refused to sell it out to speculators at the exorbitant price offered, but sold it out by the single barrel to actual customers at the ordinary rates.

A Joke.—The first patron of Edmund Burke was Gerard Hamilton, who, in a moment of anger, said to him, "It was I who took you from a garret and introduced you into life." "It appears clear," said Burke, "from your own confession, that I descended to make your acquaintance."

POLICE OFFICE.

New York, August 13.

EXTRAORDINARY CAUSE OF A FEMALE HUSBAND.—A paragraph appeared in this paper of Saturday relative to a female who was found intoxicated in the street, on Friday night, dressed in man's clothes. The account she gave of herself turns out to be also false, or at least she has since told a different story, in consequence of a further and more extraordinary discovery having been made in relation to her. On Saturday morning a decently dressed woman called at the Police Office and asked to see James Walker, (the name by which the female called herself before her sex was discovered,) whom she said was her husband. This woman was informed of the discovery which had been made, and was permitted to see the person in question, to whom however she declined speaking, and went away.

In consequence of this occurrence, James or rather Jane Walker was again brought before the magistrate, and underwent another examination, in which she stated that she was a native of Liverpool, that her real name was George Moore Wilson, and that George is a name commonly given to females in England, that both her parents died when she was very young, and that when she was twelve years old, in consequence of being ill treated by her friends, she ran away from them, put on boy's clothes, and made her way to Scotland, the native place of her parents. When she arrived there she went to work in a factory, still retaining her boy's dress, and remained in it until she had nearly arrived at manhood, when she married a Miss Eliza Cummings, with whom she sailed for Quebec two days after their marriage.

A few days after her marriage she imparted the secret of her sex to her wife, but notwithstanding this the two females have lived together ever since as man and wife. Fifteen years have passed since their union, during which it appears they experienced a great variety of fortune, but kept the secret of the husband's sex so well that it never before transpired, and remains even unknown to the wife's father who has resided for some years with them. As the first account which this woman gave of herself appears to be false, this one may be also untrue, but it stands corroborated to a certain extent, by the wife having called to see her on Saturday, and by the vexation and rage she evinced on hearing that her husband's sex was discovered; and also by a marriage certificate having been found on the prisoner, certifying that the marriage was solemnized at the time and place which she stated in her examination. The magistrate considered the matter altogether so extraordinary, that he has detained her until it can be more fully inquired into.

"Jones is going to be married," said M. to Dibbin. "I'm glad of it," replied the dramatist; "and yet I don't know why I should say so, for the poor fellow never did me any harm."

DEAN SWIFT.—When a gentleman who was trying to persuade him to dine at his house, said, "I will send you my bill of fare," he replied, "send me your bill of company."

PASTE made by putting acetate of sugar of lead into it, instead of the old way of mixing it with alum, keeps it from moulding, clear, and quite moist for months together. We have heard that Mr. Hodgson, of Harburo, communicated this mode of making paste to a book binder in Currier street, London, in 1819, and that he has found from long experience that it is by far the most useful way he ever heard of.

Mules.—It is surprising that the farmers of this neighborhood do not turn more of their attention to the raising of mules, for the use of their farms! They are very scarce hereabouts, and we can not account for it in any other way, than that their value is not properly appreciated. They are more profitable stock to raise than horses; they will live on straw, and stubbles, and browse, and always command a handsome price; they are not liable to the train of diseases which visit horse flesh. They also live twice as long.—Salem Chronicle.

SPECULATION IN CHICAGO.—"I say," said one Chicago man to another, "what did you give for your portrait?" "Twenty-five dollars—and have been offered fifty."

TO RAIL ROAD CONTRACTORS.

PROPOSALS will be received, at the Bollingbrook Hotel in Petersburg, Va. on the 8th day of October next, for the Execution, Embankment and Masonry, of forty miles of the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road.

Plans and Profiles of the work will be exhibited at the place above mentioned for ten days previous to the letting and all other information will be given on application to the Subscriber or any of the Assistant Engineers on the line. Recommendations will be expected in all cases of persons not known to the Engineer.

CHARLES F. M. GARNETT, C. E. P. S. For the information of persons at a distance, I would state that the Raleigh & Gaston Rail Road is a continuation of the Petersburg and of the Greensville and Roanoke Rail Roads, from the Roanoke to Raleigh, in the great line of Northern and Southern travel.

This Road is located on a high and dry ridge of country, which is considered remarkably healthy—and the mildness of the climate, admitting of operations in the open air throughout the winter, makes it peculiarly desirable to those wishing winter jobs.

The facility of travelling is so great now, by the Baltimore and Washington and Richmond and Fredericksburg Rail Roads that the trip from Philadelphia to Petersburg may be performed in forty hours. The trip may be performed in the same time by the Bay, on three days in the week. Aug. 18. 94-7t.

THE Raleigh Star Milton Spectator, Warrenton Reporter, Oxford Examiner, Carolina Watchman, and Hillsborough Recorder, will insert the above.

FARMER'S VIEW

FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber is anxious to move to the West, and offers for sale his Tract of Land whereon he now resides, laying on Deep River, in Chatham County, twelve miles above Haywood, one and a half below Evans Bridge, four and a half below the Gulf, and twelve south of Pittsburg; containing Twelve Hundred and sixty-eight acres, more than one half lays in the bend of the River, six Hundred acres of which are cleared, and may be cleared first and second low grounds. There is a great deal of very good Land to clear, a good site for a Cotton Factory, and a Merchant Mill on the River. One half of this site is owned by Peter Evans, Esq. This Tract is less subject to be injured by high water than any tract on the River. It is very level for this section of country, and very productive for Corn, Wheat, Cotton, &c. &c. It is sufficient to support twenty-five or thirty hands can be worked to very great advantage, and the farm made richer every year. The plantation is in good health; on it is a large Frame Dwelling House, four rooms below and three above, with six fire places, and a large framed Barn, fifty-two feet by twenty-four; it is a large Wheat Thresher and a Cotton Gin, a Cotton Screw; and necessary out-houses. For the information of persons in the lower part of the State, I refer them to Peter Evans, Esq. of Edgecombe; he owns the land immediately above me, on the opposite side of the River. I offer to sell part or all, so as to suit the purchaser. I advise those who wish to take a Bargain and a good Farm to apply and shortly. The subscriber can be found on the plantation at any time.
